

Passengers on airplanes have had enough to endure since 2001--from airlines, goverment agents, and other passengers--without adding this. Airline terminals are insufferable as it is, filled with people who are compelled to have un-ending and loud conversations on cell-phones; please do NOT permit these uncouth, inconsiderate, and self-centered louts continue this behavior on the last "safe haven" left in the torture that air-travel has become.

Thank you.
